Week 1 • 8th July, 2013

Principal's Message

Term 3 promises to be just as busy and eventful as the previous two. Hopefully you had a chance to take some time out from routine and enjoy your family over the holidays. Thank you for sending the children back refreshed and ready to continue with their learning.

John Hinton begins his two weeks of Long Service Leave. This is certainly a well-deserved break and we hope he gets the chance to put his feet up! In his absence, I will be Acting Principal, and Sandra Freeman will be Acting Assistant Principal Religious Education.

This term also sees our school complete the first phase of the Australian Curriculum implementation plan. Teachers are now planning, teaching and reporting using the Australian Curriculum in the learning areas of English, Maths, Science, and History. Brisbane Catholic Education has also written a New Religious Education Curriculum, which has also been implemented with teachers and students beginning to work with it this term.

The implementation for these five learning areas has involved teachers undergoing professional development and school resourcing to ensure the needs and interests of our students are being met during classroom teaching and learning.

The professionalism and dedication of the teachers at St. Joseph’s has allowed for a seamless transition to this new Curriculum.

Have a great week

Helen Freshwater
